

Anne DAMBRICOURT MALASSÉ

Born July 14, 1959, France

Paleoanthropologist at National Centre for Scientific Research (CNRS) 1990-present
UMR 7194 CNRS/National Museum of Natural History, Paris.

- Master (1981): Geology- Paris-Saclay University
- DEA (1983) : Quaternary Geology – Human Paleontology – Prehistory. Pierre and Marie Curie - University (major)
- PhD (1987) : Human Paleontology, National Museum of Natural History, Paris - Cum Laude
- Accredited to Direct Research (HDR) (2011) : University of Technology of Compiègne – Cum Laude

Head of fieldworks and paleoanthropological research

India

2012- 2014: Head of the French Archaeological Mission in India of the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs

2015-2020: Head of the Prehistorical Research Program “Siwaliks” in India

China

2009-2019 with the Guizhou Mountain Resources Research Institute, Guiyang

Pakistan

1996-1997 with the Peshawar University, Dept of Archaeology.

Head of the Archaeological Mission in Pakistan of the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Teaching

Direction of courses in Paleoanthropology and Prehistory, doctoral degree, National Museum of Natural History, Paris, 2006-2019.

Previously Courses : DEA, at National Museum of Natural History, Paris, René Descartes University (University of human and health sciences of Paris) and Aix-Marseille University

Highschool : AgroParisTech

Editor

Guest Chief Editor of the Proceedings of the French Academy of Sciences, Palevol, section Paleontology-Prehistory, 2016 : “Human origins on the Indian sub-continent”.

Editor Springer-Nature 2020 : “Self-Organization as a New Paradigm in Evolutionary Biology: From Theory to Applied Cases in the Tree of Life” in the Series Ed. Delisle, Richard G. “Evolutionary Biology – New Perspectives on Its Development”